

Weather Patterns ▪ Connecting Concepts

Connecting Concepts

Develop a concept map that uses the key concepts and key terms from this chapter. Keep in mind the big idea of this chapter: Weather is caused by air masses that meet to form areas of high and low pressure and fronts that bring storms and precipitation. The concept map shown is one way to organize how the information in this chapter is related. You may use an extra sheet of paper.

