

Climate and Climate Change ▪ Connecting Concepts

Connecting Concepts

Develop a concept map that uses the key concepts and key terms from this chapter. Keep in mind the big idea of this chapter: Climates are classified into six main regions determined by precipitation and temperature, and they are constantly changing as a result of natural processes and human activities. The concept map shown is one way to show how the information in this chapter is related. You may use an extra sheet of paper.
